

PROXIMITY

Proximity: use of distance between elements

- Place items close to each other to group them together
 - Viewers tend to interpret items visually clustered together as a single entity or group
- Use more distance between groups or items to clarify distinctions
 - Viewers tend to interpret distance between items/groups as a break or shift to a new idea
- Give elements space to “breathe” to avoid looking crowded or cluttered